

REJECT Referendum 88 / I-1000:

- X Different Rules for Different Races
- X Hurts Veterans
- X Expensive New Bureaucracy

R-88 / I-1000 Divides Us

We can all agree there is too much division in our society. That means we need solutions that bring us together, not drive us further apart. R-88 / I-1000 would allow government to make race a deciding factor. That's unfair.

R-88 / I-1000 Would Allow Discrimination

R-88 / I-1000 would allow the state to use different rules for different races when deciding who gets admitted to state colleges and universities, who gets hired for a public job, and who gets a government contract.

R-88 / I-1000 Would Hurt Veterans

For over 100 years, Washington State has provided honorably discharged veterans, disabled veterans and survivors a preference in public jobs. R-88 / I-1000 would eliminate this important benefit for those who have served our country.

R-88 / I-1000 Creates an Unaccountable and Expensive New Bureaucracy

R-88 / I-1000 will create a costly, unelected and unaccountable bureaucracy that will impose "quotas" in government employment, college admissions and public contracts. The Governor would choose this Board – not Washington taxpayers and not voters.
